What To Do After an Accident — Clear, Step-by-Step Help

Subheadline

If you've been in a car accident, truck accident, or serious injury incident, you're in the right place. The Accident Guides helps you understand what to do next, what to avoid, and how to research local options — without giving legal advice.

Intro

An accident can change your life in seconds. You may be hurt, confused, stressed, or overwhelmed. Insurance companies may start calling before you even know what questions to ask.

We created The Accident Guides to help people slow things down and take the right next steps. Our guides explain what to do after an accident using plain language, simple checklists, and city-specific information.

We are not a law firm. We do not give legal advice. Our goal is to help you understand your options so you can make informed decisions.

What You Can Do on This Site

- Learn what to do immediately after an accident
- Follow simple evidence and documentation checklists
- Understand injury claim timelines
- Read city-specific accident guides
- Research local personal injury law firms
- See clearly labeled advertising and sponsorships

PHOENIX EDUCATIONAL WEDGES

1. What To Do After a Car Accident (Phoenix)

Car accidents are common in Phoenix due to highways, commuter traffic, and year-round driving.

What To Do

1. Call 911 if anyone is hurt
2. Move to safety if you can
3. Get medical care, even if you feel okay
4. Take photos of cars, damage, and the scene
5. Exchange contact and insurance information
6. Do not admit fault
7. Keep copies of all paperwork

Phoenix Note

Arizona uses a comparative fault system. Fault can be shared, so documentation matters.

2. What To Do After a Truck Accident (Phoenix)

Truck accidents often cause serious injuries and may involve multiple companies.

Why Truck Accidents Are Different

- Commercial insurance
- Federal safety rules
- Company drivers and contractors

Many Phoenix truck accidents happen on I-10, I-17, and Loop 101.

3. What To Do After a Slip and Fall (Phoenix)

Slip and fall injuries can happen in stores, parking lots, or public buildings.

Important Steps

- Take photos of the hazard
- Note the time and place
- Get witness names
- Ask for an incident report

Extreme heat in Phoenix can increase pavement and surface risks.

4. Evidence Checklist (Phoenix)

Collect and save:

- Photos and videos
 - Medical records
 - Police or incident reports
 - Insurance letters
 - Witness contact information

5. Arizona Injury Claim Timeline

General Timeline

- Immediate medical care
- Insurance notification
- Ongoing treatment
- Claim review

Arizona has strict deadlines. Missing them may limit your options.

6. When To Call an Attorney (Phoenix)

You may want to speak with a lawyer if:

- Your injuries are serious
- Fault is disputed
- Insurance denies coverage
- Long-term care is needed

You are not required to hire a lawyer.

7. How To Choose a Lawyer (Phoenix)

Questions To Ask

- Do you handle cases like mine?
- Who works on my case?

- How do fees work?
- How often will we communicate?

Take your time and compare options.

8. Phoenix FAQ (/phoenix/faq)

Do I have to hire a lawyer?

No. This site provides education and research tools only.

Is this legal advice?

No. This site does not provide legal advice.

How much does a consultation cost?

Many firms offer free consultations. Confirm directly.

Are these firms endorsed?

No. Listings are based on public information.
